

Let people get off the bus before you get on.

Take your backpack off when you are standing on the bus and hold it close to your legs.

Hold your possessions on your lap when you are sitting.

Show your bus pass to driver when getting on the bus.

As much as possible only talk to the driver when the bus is stopped.

Let the elderly, pregnant, disabled or injured passengers sit first.

If you sit at the front of the bus, you maybe asked to give up your seat for a passenger in the wheelchair.

Keep your music at a good volume so that other passengers do not hear it.

If you are making a phone call try to use a quite voice, so others cannot hear your conversation.

If you are eating or drinking on the bus, take all your garbage with you when you leave.

Stand away from the doors so that you don not block people who want to get off the train or bus.

Make sure to use deodorant when you are using Calgary Transit.

Feet stay on the ground when riding transit; they do not go on the seats.
