- Doesn't make sense from a taxpayer point of view to keep a school open with such low enrollment. I appreciate the small classes but I do not like the fact that most are split between 2 different grades. Schools should be efficiently utilized in order to function with today's economy. We need to stretch our tax dollars, not toss them out the window.
- Olympic Heights is over-full – could Rosscarrock be the overflow school for Olympic Heights or Sunalta?

Is the cost of maintenance/repairs a factor in considering the closure of Rosscarrock?

We live out of area, and have chosen year after year to keep our child here because of the culture of the school, small class sizes and relationships with staff. In a system that is struggling with over full schools and the related stress for kids and staff, it seems counterintuitive to close this school.
